gress. Mr. Daniel spoke in advocacy of this provision.

The fact soon developed that Senator Daniel had offered his amendment for the purpose of making a general speeding on the treaty, and when the afteen minutes allowed to him for his speed on his own amendment had expired and the amendments, which were each in furning defeated, but upon all of which Senator Daniel continued to speak. At told, he spoke for about an hour. His speech was an arraignment of the Republican policy in pressing the treaty with what he asserted was much haste. He referred to the enormous exponditure that would be required to construct the canal, and charged recklessness in rushing into such an enterprise, as he declared was being done.

OPPOSED BY MR. MORGAN.

After Senator Daniel had closed several other Senators on both sides of the chamber addressed the Senate in fifteen-minute speeches for and against the treaty. Among those who spoke against it was Senator Gorman, who devoted himself especially to the question of tild necessity for adequate defense of the canal, which, he said, could only be assured by the United States. He asserted that Senators were not thinking for themselves, but were following blindly in the lead by the Secretary of State. Indeed, he declared that Senators were partially surrrending their own offices in order to maintain a reputation for party alleglance.

Benator Platt, of Connecticut, was one Benator Marchant of the teath of the teath of the canal or the senators of the parties controlled the canal or the senators were partially surrending their own offices in order to maintain a reputation for party alleglance.

indeed, he declared that Senators are partially surrending their own offices in order to maintain a reputation for party allegance.

Senator Platt, of Connecticut, was one of the very few Senators, if not the only Senator, to announce his entire satisfaction with the treaty. He criticised the Democratic Senator's for using induce minuteness in their efforts to find affects in the agreement. He was sure they were splitting hairs.

FIFTY IN A BLOCK.

Whon, at 4:45 P. M., it became apparent that the fifteen-minute speechs had been coheluded. Senator Morgan surprised the Senate by refraining from presenting any more individual amendments and by presenting all of the fifty which he had prepared in one block, submitting them with the portions of the text of the treaty, which he had not changed, as a substitute for the whole agreement. He did not demand a roll-call, and the substitute was woted down viva voce almost unanimously.

It was now a few minutes past be o'clock and Senator Morgan took the floor to make the last of his long series of speeches in opposition to the treaty. In accordance with unanimous agreement he spoke for an hour, and in order to conform himself to the time and to make the points he desired to make, he had prepared his speech in advance. He read deliberately, but in a firm voice, often digressing in order to emphasize a point. He stopped short at the expiration of his allotted time, whereupon Senator Oullom, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, took the floor to reply. He also read his speech from manuscript, presenting a carefully prepared and business-like summary of reasons for railfying the treaty and for constructing the equals.

sons for ratifying the treaty and for constructing the canal.

THE TREATY RATIFLED.
Senator Cullom occupied only about three-fourth's of the hour allotted to him, and when he had concluded the question as to whether the treaty should he ratified was promptly put before the Senate. All the Senators in the city occupied their seats and all were prompt in responding when their names were called. The vote resulted in the ratification of the treaty by 73 to 5. The result was no surprise, for all had predicted that when the offered amendments had been disposed of the treaty would be approved by an overwhelming majority. The first opposition to be heard was that of Senator Daniel of Virginia. Senator Daniel was joined by his colleague, Senator Martin, and after them came the two Alabama Senators, Mossrs. Morgan and Pettus. Senator Teller, of Colorado, also voted in opposition, and his was the last vote on that side of the question.

When Senator Frye, who occupied the chair, announced the result, there was no demonstration, and the Senate adjourned. Before this result was reached, however, it had been decided to meet again tomorew at 11 o'clock for the purpose of taking up the Cuban treaty, and with the hope of concluding its consideration in order that the Senate might adjourn finally to-morrow. structing the canal.

Mrs. Paine said she was home on the night of the murder. Her boarder, Miss Cunningham, had a visitor, who remained until quite late. She read until 9:30 o'clock, and then went to bed.

She did not see Miss Cunningham or her friend again that night. She had no corapany that night and did not leave the house.

Witness was at Pennell's house about two weeks ago and had a talk with Mrs.

"Did Mrs. Pennell say she was going to

"No; she said she had heard the story that she lwas getting a divorce, but she said she had no intention of doing any-ining of the kind."

She said she had spoken to Burdick about taking his wife back. Burdick guid that Mrs. Pennell had caused all the trouble in the first, and that it was too late for her to intercede.
"I believe it was Mrs. Pennell who first told Mr. Burdick about Mr. Pennell and Mrs. Burdick?" declared Mrs. Paine.

Mrs. Pennell had never told witness that Mr. Pennell had threatened to do Mr. Burdick harm, and witness had never heard of Pennell threatening harm to Burdick.

"Did Burdick ever express his feelings towards Pennell?"

"He said that he would forgive Pennell for all that he had done if he would only marry Mrs. Burdick. He said he would permit her to have the children six months of the year."

"Did he ever say anything about murdering Pennell?"

"He said once: 'Who would there be to take care of my children—murder on my hands?"

Charles S. Parke, Burdick's business partner, said Burdick told him about the trouble with his wife about Christmastime. Mr. Burdick told him he did not blame Mrs. Burdick so much as he did Pennell. He said he had shown him every consideration, and that Pennell had promised to get out of town, but had not done so. He said he had lost patience and the divorce suit was to go on."

"Then the man who made all the trouble was Pennell?"

But Mr. Ellyson Doesn't Deny Candidacy for Governship.

WILL REAPPOINT CRUM

the Negro on Charlestonians-No Adverse Comment on Governor's Failure to Sign.

> Times-Dispatch Bureau, No. 1417 G Street, N. W.,

Washington, D. C., March 17th. Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson, who was here on business to-day, reaffirmed his declaron of some time ago that he was andidate for the Democratic nomination to the governorship. Mr. Ellyson was much more disposed to discuss current affairs of the business and political world than his candidacy for the guber-natorial nomination to succeed Mr. Montague, but he made no attempt to conceal his attitude and intentions. I recalled to his mind the remark he made to me in the lobby of the Monticello Hotel in Norfolk after the homination of Mr. Montague in 1901, in which he declared he would be a candidate in 1905. "I take nothing back," said Mr. Ellyson, and he smiled benignly. But he would not say a great deal for publication. Local newspaper, mer sought to get a statement from him soon after his arrival at the Raleigh, and a well known photographer requested him to sit for his photograph, but the reporters got no interview, and the photographer waited in vain for a sitting. Mr. Ellyson and Mr. Frank T. Sutton, of Richmond, who accompanied him to Washington, returned home this afternoon. candidate for the Democratic nomination of Richmond, who accompanied him to Washington, returned home this afternoon.

During the past month a number of Virginians in Washington, including members of Congress, have expressed to me the opinion that Mr. Ellyson's chances for the nomination are decidedly the best of any of the candidates, or prospective candidates. His sixteen years of service as chairman of the State Committee have been absolutely unrowarded—a fact so generally recognized that there is a strong sentiment for him throughout the State.

It is currently rumored here that Representality James Hay, of the Seventh District, is to manage Mr. Ellyson's campaign for the nomination, but this is not stated upon the authority of either Mr. Hay or Mr. Ellyson.

NO ADVERSE CRITICISMS.

There is no adverse criticism on the part of Virginians there of the course pursued by Governor Montague in allowing the bill providing for a statue of General Lee in Statuary Hall to become a law without his signature. He is not criticised for refusal to sign it, but the reasons which he gives for opposing the bill are looked upon as wise, as good and sufficient. I have stated several times in this correspondence that while Virginians at the National Capital would, as a rule, be delighted to see a statue of General Lee placed in Statuary Hall, if everybody wanted it there, they do not wish to force it upon the nation. They believe the time is not far distant when the nation as a whole will wish to have the effigy of Genbral Lee among those of the other great men of the nation.

is not far distant when the nation as a whole will wish to have the effigy of General Lee among those of the other great men of the nation.

It is absolutely certain that the Grand Army of the Republic will, at the next session of Congress, push the resolution introduced at the last session by Mr. Weeks, of Kunsas, providing for the erection of a statue of John Brown on the lot occupied by the government building in Richmond.

It has been proposed that Brown's statue be placed in the Capitol Square, and that on one side be placed that of General Lee, the man who captured him, and on the other that of Governor Henry A. Wise, the man who captured him, and on the other that of Governor Henry A. Wise, the man who hung him.

The announcement of the Associated Press that Mr. Rudolph Forster, who has been made assistant secretary to the Fresident, is a Virginian, is somewhat misleading. Mr. Forster is a native of this city, has spent his life here, is a graduate of the Columbia Law School, but when he entered the government service some years ago, his appointment was credited or charged to Virginia. However, it is to be regretted that such an affable and courteous gentleman is not a Virginian, to the manor born.

The foregoing leads me to remark that Virginia now has more than her quota in the civil service of the government. The same is true of Maryland and Ohio. Virginia and Maryland have a proportionally larger number of appointees than other States, owing to their contiguity to the capital. Ohio has more because of late years Ohio has taken the place of Virginia as the Mother of Presidents.

other States, owing to their contiguity to the capital. Onlo has more because of late years Ohio has taken the place of Virginia as the Mother of Presidents. The State represented in the White House is naturally very fully represented in the government service.

Yet, as stated a day or two ago. Senator Daniel and Senator Martin are receiving many applications for office.

The District Commissioners have refused to sanotion an anti-spitting ordinance for Washington, similar to the one which has been on the statute boxics of Richmond for some years. Commissioner McGarland advocated such an ordinance, but the other two commissioners also permitted open summer cars to be run on the washington lines all of thi, winter. What would hose Richmond people who kick if they have to ride in an open car on a cool fall day have said to that?

TO REAPPOINT CRUM.

It is announced on authority to-day that as soon as the extra session of the Senate ends Mr. Reosevelt will reappoint the negro Crum to the position of Collector of the Port of Charleston. His mind is still set upon foroing the nomination of Crum upon the white people of South Carolling, though the Senate refuses to be a party to it. There is not the slightest doubt that if the Republican majority of he Senate refuses to the National Convention. The fact that President Roosevelt seems to have I sincere affection for the negro, even aside from his desire for Southern delegates to the National Convention. The fact that President Roosevelt has notified Dr. James B. Sener, president of the General Alumni Association of the University of Virginia, of his acceptance of an invitation to be the guest of the University at the commencement exercises, June 18th, recalls that Mr. Cleveland was the last President Mosacciation of the Continuacy.

Flood Situation About Memphis Extremely Critical.

WHOLE TOWN IS FLOODED

Citizens of Marion, Arkansas, Are Using Skiffs as Their Only Means of Travel. Hundreds of Persons Entirely Surrounded by Water.

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 17,-The flood situation in the portion of the Mississippi Valley contiguous to Memphis, s extremely critical to-night. A veritable sea exists in the St. Francis and Mississippi basins in Arkansas, extending from the one completely to the other, a distance of many miles.

Through this the St. Louis and San Through this the St. Louis and San Francisco Ralirond runs, but all trains were annulled on this line to-day and no assistance can be rendered by the ralirond, its tracks boing under water near Marion. Ark. At this latter point telegraph connections still exist to Memphis, and the reports that come in over the wire are far from encouraging. The town is almost totally flooded and oltizons are using skiffs as their only means of travel. Refugees from the adjacent territory are pouring into Marion each hour, asking that boats be eent to their rescue. There is no means of reaching them except by making a breach in the levee near Memphis and this may be done to-morrow if conditions show no improvement. It is estimated that several hundred persons are surrounded by the water in the flooded Arkansas territory and that the loss of live stock is heavy in the extreme.

Negroes at Marion have become frightened and almost a panic exists. They have congregated at the depot and in the cabins of the village and refuse to work. A relief train, the last that reached the village, arrived early this moming with five thousand sacks to be used in damming the water, but fabor cannot be secured to unload the train.

The tracks of the Iron Mountain and Choctaw Ralironds are still open and not rouble has been experienced. The Frisco is running its trains over the tracks of the former system. Francisco Railroad runs, but all trains Choctaw Railroads are suit open and of trouble has been experienced. The Frisco is running its trains over the tracks of the former system.

STELL RISING.

There seems every indication that all predictions of the stage at this point will be surpassed, as the river is again rising slowly to-night. It is hoped that the crest of the rise was sufficiently close to Memphis last night for the break in the levee at Trice's Landing to give relief and cause a fall here. A fall did not follow the break, but this was checked to-day, and to-night the gauge is 39.8 feet, or within one-tenth of the maximum thus far reported.

It is feared that the stage to-night will pass forty feet, and the end will probably not then be reached. The weak points in the levee which were reported last night, other than at the break, are still in a critical condition and further breaks may occur. Forces of men, under origineers, are working night and day at these points, and the situation has resolved itself into a race between the workers and the water.

A few floating bodies have been found by the rescuing boats, but the number has not yet been alarming. An estimate of the loss of life from the flood can never be made, as the sections flooded are so vast in area and population so widely dispersed that nothing like a census can be made.

In this city the situation is growing worse each hour, and the water is spreading to sections other than those which were flooded yestorday.

Altogether, the situation to-night is most discouraging, and with the water continuing to rise, no relief can yet be hoped for.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE ABOUT NEW ORLEANS

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, LA., March 17.—The flood situation shows no material change on the lower Mississippi beyond the continued rise in the river. At 11 o'clock tonight the Canal Street gauge marked 10.4, a rise of two-tenths since yesterday. The fine weather has enabled all the levee boards to put in a great deal of emergency work.

The crevasse at Bougere, in the lower end of Concordia Parish, will not change the situation any. The water will soon find its way back to the Mississippi. The break two miles below Bohemia, which is fifty miles below New Orleans, on the east bank, is of no importance. It is now 250 feet wide and about four feet deep.
